

U. S. TO OPPOSE ANY CHANGE IN ORIGINAL PLAN

Admission of Amendments Would Invite Return to Armament Race

CAREFULLY DRAWN

Secretary Hughes and Associates Object to Any Modification in Program.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Vigorous opposition, it became known tonight, will be made by the United States Government against any proposal looking to a modification of the naval tonnage ratio laid down in the Hughes proposal.

It will oppose any proposition from Japan intended to secure for that country a larger representation than 60 per cent. of the naval strength which the Hughes program lays down for the United States and Great Britain.

With equal determination it will resist all British suggestions that the proposed 10-year naval "holiday" be extended or that the amount of submarine tonnage allowed the several powers be reduced.

Such is the outline of the American position that came last night from sources not to be questioned, and in the effect has been to put all Washington on edge for the assembling Monday of the third open session of the Conference.

It was explained that before the United States would consent to any modification whatsoever of the dramatic scheme of naval reduction which Mr. Hughes sprung upon the Conference at its opening session, this country must first be convinced that the changes proposed are reasonable.
And it was made plain in official quarters that the American delegates are not convinced that the amendments suggested thus far are either reasonable or expedient. In a word, America at this hour is standing pat.

Moreover, it will be emphasized that the Hughes program was most carefully considered in advance of its presentation, with due regard for what this country regards as the maximum needs of the three big naval powers.
To open up the scheme to amendment would, in the opinion of those in charge of the American case, be simply inviting a return to the existing order of competitive building.

So far as the American Congress is concerned, the Administration is apparently convinced that the arrangement it is seeking to put into effect will have the full support of that body, and the President's advisers feel, will sanction any reasonable program for a limitation of naval armament.

Whether Mr. Hughes will take occasion to bring this question of suggestion modifications to the front on Monday remains to be seen. Generally it is recognized that Monday's session belongs to France, owing to the scheduled early departure of Premier Briand. Acting upon this assumption the head of the French delegation has already prepared himself to lay France's cards on the table.

$35 To Settle Board Bill of $150

Elwood Snead, colored, was charged with failure to pay a board bill of $150 to Jennie B. Smith. The case had been in court before. The time Snead admitted owing only $35.
The court after hearing long statements from the litigants decided that Snead would have to pay $35 at the rate of so much a week.

Auto Damaged $250

Washington Motorist Collides With Machine Of Chas. H. Smith An automobile belonging to Attorney Charles Henry Smith shortly before 10 o'clock last night was struck and damaged to the extent of $250, according to Mr. Smith. Mr.
Smith's machine was parked on the north side of King between Henry and Fayette streets, when a car from Washington driven by Edwin C. Lee, a marine, struck it and afterward crashed into an iron pole of the Washington-Virginia Railway. Occupants of the car occupied by Lee, 4 in number were uninjured. Mr. Smith at the time of the accident was in an ice cream parlor across the street.
The Washington car had its front considerably damaged.
The driver of the car from Washington was taken in custody by Policeman Lawrence Padgett and today in the police court he was fined $5 for careless driving.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 19.—Precedents in the history of the United States show that the President has full authority to negotiate arms agreements with foreign nations, despite the Constitutional provision that Congress shall have the right to raise and maintain navies.

Precedents also show that previous international agreements have required ratification by the Senate, showing that in all human probability any agreement on naval armaments reached at this conference will have to be submitted to the Senate for ratification.

Perhaps the most striking precedent is the naval agreement entered into with Great Britain respecting the use of armed vessels on the Great Lakes. This agreement was concluded by an exchange of notes between Charles Bageot, British Minister, and Richard Rush, acting Secretary of State of the United States, in 1817.
It was signed April 28, 1817, ratified by the Senate on April 16, 1818 and was proclaimed by the President on April 28, 1818.

"The British government would welcome the total abolition of the submarine," it was stated on the highest authority here today. "The personnel of the British navy is squarely behind the move for the abolition of the submarine." As a matter of fact it was recalled in this connection in Washington today that during the Peace Conference in Paris, the British government did its utmost to have the use of submarines banned not merely in war but also in peace. It is the convinced opinion of the British assembled here that the submarine as a commercial venture has no future unless "the bootleggers find they can make it profitable."

Henry Ford, the auto king came to Washington in his private car for consultation with Secretary of War Weeks and Secretary of Commerce Hoover on the Muscle Shoals Purchase of the National Capital, so as not to be troubled about hotel accommodations.
But Ford did not come to Washington in a "flivver" neither did he reach here in any other kind of an auto. He came in a handsome, fitted Palmer car, manufactured in his plant in Detroit, a car that runs on railroad tracks and has to stop at all the regular stations.

Although the Willis-Campbell beer bill has not yet officially gone to the President for signature, it is understood here that Attorney General Dougherty's aids have been giving serious consideration to the Constitutionality of the measure and may advise the President that it is vetoed.
Objecting to the bill is that it attempts to prescribe and prohibit the use of beer for medicinal purposes which is a thing not contemplated by the Eighteenth Amendment. The President has ten days in which to sign the bill before it becomes a law without his signature, assuming that Congress does not in the meantime adjourn. Decision of the bill's constitutionality will, therefore, be passed by the Department of Justice within a very short time.

While England is tentatively hunting out a tri-partite arrangement in the Pacific, the French delegation, headed by Premier Briand, is mustering its forces for a restatement of the French ideal of a tripartite arrangement of the Rhine problem where America and England would guarantee the safety of France against aggression from Germany.

At the French headquarters it was pointed out today that Premier Briand faces a busy week. He will, in all probability, address an open session of the conference on Monday next, expounding the Pacific intentions of France and interpreting the fears of the French nation as well as their legitimate claims on the gratitude of the world. It is understood that Premier Briand will leave Washington the middle of next week, sailing for France next Saturday.

The United States members to the conference on the limitation of armaments headed by Secretary of State Hughes, do not propose that Japan shall be given a greater proportion of battleships of the first-line than that set out in the plan of Mr. Hughes submitted to the conference. No matter what proposals Japan might make in this respect or what claims for an increase in her fighting force may be made, the delegates representing America will stand against any further increase. Japan, the United States feels, has been given her fair share of naval armaments in the plan of Mr. Hughes and the matter must rest there so far as this country is concerned.
Isaac Gregg.

Miss C. T. Kast Dead

Miss Caroline T. Kast, thirty-two years old, died yesterday at the residence of her sister, Mrs. William H.
Duncan, North Braddock, Arlington County, after a long illness. Her Monday morning funeral will be at Duncan's residence, and burial will be in Union cemetery. Services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. P. F. Hall, rector of St. Paul's P. E. Church, assisted by Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis.

REWARD OF $350 OFFERED FOR W. H. OEHLERT

Fairfax County Offers $300 and Sheriff Allison $50

NO TRACE OF FUGITIVE

Reports About Capture of Oehlert Prove Canard—Many Reports Investigated and Found Baseless.

Thus far the authorities of Fairfax county and Alexandria are without a single clue concerning the whereabouts of William H. Oehlert, of this city, who early yesterday morning broke jail at Fairfax where he was held in connection with the murder of Henry Briscoe occurred October 15. Members of the police department all last night kept close watch for Oehlert, but it was stated today that they were unable to find any trace of him.

Rumors have been going the rounds thick and fast since Oehlert escaped. The first report was that he was apprehended in Charlottesville.
This proved without foundation.

One report which today gained considerable headway is the effect that Oehlert was in this city last night and spent the night here. The police, however, when questioned concerning the report this morning denied that such could possibly have occurred.
There are many persons, however, who believe that Oehlert is close to Alexandria and may show up at almost any time.

On the other hand there are others who are of the opinion that Oehlert when he left the jail was well supplied with funds which would enable him to go a considerable distance from these parts.

Oehlert, it is reported, has been looked after since he has been out.
It also is reported on the streets that since his arrest certain persons had stated that they would not at any time be surprised to see him break jail.

Efforts on the part of the Alexandria authorities to trace the confer-rate of Oehlert who motored him from the jail to freedom also have proved unavailing, although the authorities are said to be working to capture this man.

A reward of $300 today was offered by Fairfax county for Oehlert's apprehension and an additional reward of $50 also was offered personally yesterday as stated in The Gazette by Sheriff Allison of Fairfax. Acting Commonwealth's Attorney Wilson Farr stated today that he had taken up the question of an additional reward with Governor Davis and expects to hear from him shortly.

Mr. Farr has notified the police departments of many cities both North and South who have been furnished with a description of the fugitive and the entire country is being scoured in search of Oehlert.

The authorities believe that the rewards offered now totaling $350 spur on the activity of outside officials and possibly may result in Oehlert's apprehension. No stone is being left unturned by the authorities of Fairfax to apprehend Oehlert and the search for the fugitive will continue unabated, it is stated.

A grand jury at Fairfax Monday will investigate Oehlert's case and it is expected he will be indicted. A number of Alexandria witnesses have been summoned to testify.

S. G. Grim, C. And O. Detective Was Shot By Unidentified Negro

The condition of S. G. Grim, a detective employed by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, who was shot early yesterday morning by an unidentified negro, whom he had placed under arrest, is reported today at the Alexandria Hospital to be a shade better. His condition, however, is still critical, although the attendants at the hospital hold out hope for his recovery.

The authorities thus far have been unable to find his assailant. The negro whom he arrested was suspected of having entered a car filled with freight near Seminary Station. A companion of the assailant, who also had been placed under arrest by Detective Puckett W. Haver escaped at the same time.

It is announced that a basketball league is being formed on the river.
The teams of the Old Dominion Boat Club, the Alexandria Light Infantry, the Virginia Athletic Club, the Dread naught Athletic Club and the Knights of Columbus will probably play in the league. The managers of these and other teams wishing to be included in the league will be able to obtain definite information by getting in touch with Leut. Theron R.
Hayden, who is formulating the

THANKSGIVING DAY

Whereas, It is the custom of the people of Virginia, at the end of the harvest season, to give thanks unto Almighty God for his great mercies and manifold gifts; and

Whereas, There has come a spiritual awakening of the peoples of the world foreshadowing peace on earth and good will among men; and

Whereas, Our nation, under the influence of this awakening, has opened the way for a limitation of armaments and the establishment of a closer relationship among the nations of the world; now

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do proclaim, in accordance with law, Thursday, November 24, 1921, as a public holiday, to be observed as a day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout the Commonwealth, and I call upon all the people of Virginia to gather on that day in their usual places for Divine worship, and there, as well as in their homes, give thanks to the Almighty for the promise of an enduring peace in the world, and for the many blessings we have received at His hands during the past year. And, in the hour of prayer on this blessed day of thanksgiving, I urge that we pray for Divine guidance of our representatives in the councils of the Disarmament Conference, and recall with grateful memory the supreme sacrifice of our sons as we pray for this peace for which they died.

Given under my hand, and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this sixteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and twenty-one, and the one hundred and forty-sixth year of the Commonwealth.

Westmoreland Davis,
Governor.

Too Few Civil Service Applicants

The Civil Service Commission invites special attention to the fact that in examinations held recently in Alexandria, Va., and other cities throughout the United States for domestic science teachers, Indian Service, for apprentice fish culturists, Bureau of Fisheries, and for telegraph operators, Departmental and Field Services, applicants were not secured in the number desired, and that these examinations will again be held on December 7.

Persons interested in these or other examinations should apply to the secretary of the United States Civil Service Board at the local postoffice for detailed information and application blanks.

Friends Sextet Defeats Lee School

On the Friends Playground, the Lee School met defeat by a score of 16 to 12 at the hands of the fast basketball team representing the play grounds.

With a few rooters to cheer them on the play grounds, the sextet started the game with a firm determination to win against heavy odds in favor of the school girls, who were accompanied by at least 200 rooters and numerous players.

Miss Reardon, the referee, started the game at 3:45 p. m., and at the end of the first quarter the score stood: Lee School, 3, Playground 6.
Mary Ford, the Friends center, was on the side line until she saw her team mates were behind, entered the game from them until the end. The Playground team showed its best form and forged to the lead by score of 8 to 3, at the end of first half.

The Lee School girls played well together, and no individual star can be mentioned the Friends with Ford in center, Jones, side center, Cockrell, guard, Clarke, guard, Bennett, forward, and Crump, forward, with Alma Polkinton, substitute side center, played a strong game and after a rest period they started in again and scored 3 goals and 2 fouls to school girls scored four baskets and one foul.

Although much criticism was made against the Friends Sextet for the way they played, there is an excuse when one considers these girls are handicapped by being compelled to play their practice games against boys, as very few teams of girls care to tackle this aggregation which is out to win all games and those desiring dates phone 235.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

While engaged in cleaning a shotgun at his home this morning, Garfield McGray, 28 years old, who lives near the Seminary, Fairfax county, was accidentally shot in both legs.
McGray was taken to the Alexandria Hospital where his injuries were dressed by Dr. M. D. Delaney.

ARMOUR'S MEN WILL ACCEPT CUT IN WAGES

First Time in History of Packing Industry That Both Sides Agree

OTHERS TO FOLLOW

Omaha Men Refuse to Follow Chicago Lead is Stated—Strikes May Follow.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Employees of Armour & Co., 26,000 in all, yesterday, through their plant governing committee, agreed with officials of the packing house that a wage reduction is necessary and fixed its amount.
The cut is effective November 28.

This is the first time in the history of the industry that a wage reduction has been arrived at in such a manner.

Last night officials of Swift & Co. announced that after an all-day conference the representatives of the Chicago Assembly of Employees had voted that a readjustment of wages was necessary, had extended a vote of confidence in the management and had voted to leave the wage readjustment to the discretion of the management.

Reductions for various classes of employees of the Chicago assembly practically corresponding to those fixed by the employees of Armour & Co. and effective on the same date, November 28, were then announced by company officials who said they expected the other 16 assemblies of employees to take similar action.

Swift and Co. also announced last night that the Omaha assembly had voted to accept a wage cut, but had not specified the amount or how it was to be determined.

Officials said they expected the employees would ratify the action of the men appointed to represent them in the assemblies.

Employees of Wilson & Co. and the Cudahy Packing Company, who are holding plant conferences, are expected to accept similar reductions, and Morris & Co. has announced that it will follow the example of the others. All of the "big five," except the "plant-congress" system of employees' participation in the management of the industry.

When the reductions are applied to the plants of the other members of Morris & Co., last spring inaugurated the "big five," 125,000 men and women will be affected. In the final result a far larger number will be directly concerned, as wages in several hundred smaller packing houses are based on the "big five" scales.

No change is made in working conditions or the 44-hour week guarantee.

The agreement between Armour & Co. and its employees followed a two-day conference. Twenty-four employees, representatives of the plant councils in nine cities, met with an equal number of company officials. The books were opened and the financial condition of the company explained.
The question was put to a vote, and the following reductions, effective in all plants except that at Fort Worth, Texas, adopted:

For piece workers, 8 per cent.; unskilled labor, getting 45 cents an hour or less, 7-2 cents; semi-skilled labor getting 45 and 50 cents an hour, 3 cents. A minimum wage of 25 cents an hour for adult female labor is provided. These reductions apply to plants in Chicago, St. Paul, Sioux City, Omaha, St. Joseph, Kansas City, St. Louis and Denver.

The reductions at Fort Worth, where wages are gauged by local larbor conditions, are: Unskilled labor, receiving less than 42-1-2 cents an hour, 7-1-2 cents; semi-skilled labor receiving from 42-1-2 to 47-1-2 cents an hour, 5 cents; skilled labor receiving more than 47-1-2 cents an hour, 3 cents.

Funeral of Miss Slye

The funeral of Miss Gwyneth B.
Slye took place on Wednesday of this week from St. Paul's Episcopal Church, the Rev. Percy Hall officiating. The bearers were Mr. Lawrence Washington, of Washington, D. C., Messrs. Robert Thomas, J.
Barton Phillips, Thomas C. Carter and Aylett E. Nicol, and Dr. Walter H. Janney, all of the latter of Alexandria, Va.

Miss Slye was one of the oldest residents of the city, being ninety years of age. For several years past she had been confined to her home in Cameron street, but she kept up a lively interest in public events and was especially well posted on the political questions of the day. She was highly cultivated, and one literary taste, and wrote continually up to the time of her death. Only a few weeks before the end of her life she composed a poem, which she appeared in one of the leading periodicals of the nation. Her death was due to old age. She is affectionately and reverently remembered by a host of friends.

VIRGINIA NEWS PARAGRAPHED

Richmond.—Roger Eastlake, chief naval petty officer, held in the city jail for safekeeping on the charge of complicity in the atrocious murder of his wife, Mrs. Margaret Eastlake, mother of two children, at Colonial Beach, Westmoreland county, late in September, will be tried first, advices received here from Commonwealth Attorney Watt T. Mayo, of that county, by Attorney Charles W.
Moas, assisting prosecutor, stated.
The trial date has been set on December 13 at Montross. Miss Sarah E. Knox, former Johns Hopkins nurse of Baltimore and alleged sweetheart of Eastlake, the other principal in the sensational murder, will be prosecuted after the jury is through with the case against Eastlake. No particular reason was assigned for the trial of the husband before that of the "woman in the case."

Roanoke.—Testing of cattle for tuberculosis and registering them with the United States department of agriculture as accredited herds can no longer be continued in Virginia unless an additional federal appropriation is made, according to word received here yesterday. The American Farm Bureau Federation has presented the problem to each member of the senate and house appropriations committee, other congressmen and the department of agriculture. A bill calling for an appropriation of $600,000 for this work has been referred to the house appropriations committee.

Richmond.—"I'm old-fashioned enough to be unable to discriminate between hugging a girl on the sofa and hugging her on a ball room floor," was the declaration made Sunday night by Rev. John Boach Stratton, D. D. of New York, in his sermon,
"The Dance of Death," which he delivered Sunday night before an audience which filled every available inch of Grove Avenue Baptist church.
Dr. Stratton took as his text Ecclesiastes, 4:13. "There is a time to dance." The modern dance is a sign of degeneracy in modern society," said Dr. Stratton, who deemed it unnecessary to devote time to a discussion of the old-fashioned dances, the Virginia Reel or the minuet. "Physically, morally and mentally, the modern dance is demoralizing to the nation, and a dance of death."

Petersburg.—The second session of the Synod of Virginia in meeting in this city, today was featured by an automobile tour of the city and historical places nearby by the delegates, the Rotary Club being the host. Practically all of the delegates took in the trip, many automobiles being used. Preceding the automobile ride the most solemn service of the Synod was held in the Taab Street Presbyterian Church, the Rev.
A. M. Fraser, D. D., ex-moderator of the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church, delivering a forceful sermon. This service was held from 2:30 until 4 o'clock.

Newport News.—Yorktown is to have a park, the government having leased several acres of land adjacent to the monument to the Yorktown-Virginia Corporation. Work on the park already has been started.
The land runs from Main Street to the low water mark on York River, with about 500 feet of river frontage. Yorktown has become a Mecca for motorists since the government built a concrete road there from this city, and the usually hundreds of people there every Sunday, especially in the summer time. The swimming is good and aside from its historical interest. Yorktown is one of the prettiest spots in this section.

Amherst.—County Agent O. B.
Rose is making an effort to have every orchardist in the county attend the big meeting of horticulturists to be held at the Chamber of Commerce, Lynchburg, November 25.
The object of the meeting is to consider spraying and fertilization of orchards this fall so that the trees may be put in a healthy condition to insure a good crop next year.
This has been an unusually hard year on orchards, and it is said that the trees will require an unusual amount of attention.

Fredericksburg.—A new section of the State Teachers' Association will be organized at the November meeting under the name of Commercial Education Section. A. R. Chandler, Jr., president of the Fredericksburg State Normal School, will preside.
This section will meet in Room 215 of the John Marshall high school at 2 p. m. on Wednesday, November 23.

Former Resident Dies

Aleck Lee Ashton, fifty-seven years died last night at his residence, 931 H street, southwest, Washington, after a long illness. Besides his wife, Mrs. Julia Ashton, he leaves a sister, Mrs. Robert A. Kane. Funeral services will be held at his late residence at 10:30 o'clock and burial will be in the Presbyterian cemetery, this city.

WORKING RULES OF SHOP CRAFT NOW READY

National Agreement to be Superseded—To Become Effective December 1

WILL AFFECT 500,000

Maintenance of Way Dispute to be Taken up Next by Rail Labor Board.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The United States Railroad Labor Board announced tonight that new working rules for the six shop crafts probably will be completed and issued in time to become effective December 1.

Issuance of the rules, under a recent decision of the board, paves the way for consideration of requests which may be filed by the roads for revision of the shop-craft wage schedules.

The new shop-craft rules will affect approximately 500,000 men on all class 1 railroads in the country.
Only 94 railroads are directly concerned in the present case, the others not having their submissions in proper shape when the case was taken up, but board members anticipate that all the Class 1 railroads will probably carry out the decision without further hearings.

The board's statement issued tonight said:

"Such satisfactory progress during the past week has been made in the consideration of rules and working conditions for the six shop crafts that it is altogether probable that these rules will be completed and will become effective December 1."

The board members said tonight that the new rules have been practically completed in less than five months, while the national agreement which they supersede, required the attention of railway, Government and labor representatives and experts for seven months before it was completed.

The Labor Board's work on the rules was interrupted by the threatened railroad strike, which was averted October 27. A few days previously the board had announced that no further wage reductions for any class of employees would be considered by the board until working rules and agreements in dispute for that class of employees had been passed on.

The board, it was indicated tonight, will next take up for consideration the rules and working conditions for the maintenance of way employees.
There are a large number of discussions attending the question of already before the board, and statisticians have prepared most of the cases for presentation.

The national agreement, which the new rules will displace, was first brought before the Railway Administration in January, 1910. It was submitted to a committee of 28 men, 14 representing the employees and 14 the roads. This committee considered the rules for four months, after which the findings were reviewed by the National Board on Railway Wages and Working Conditions. The Railway Administration then passed on the rules.

Steps for revision of the national agreements before the Labor Board were taken April 16, 1920, after the railroads and their employees had finished preliminary negotiations both as to wages and rules and working conditions without reaching any agreement. The board hastened the decision by ordering further conferences between employees and the roads on rules and working conditions. The results were reported back to the board, which in July began the work of formulating new rules.

SENATOR SWANSON'S SPEECH

The speech by Senator Swanson in the United States Senate, a few days ago, is a masterly presentation of the more serious problems now confronting the nation. It discusses the reduction of taxation, the reduction of national expenses, disarmament and the preservation of peace. It is an earnest and competent brief for the League of Nations, and a most eloquent plea that the present Disarmament Conference shall in some measure achieve the ideals and purposes of the former body. Its sincerity of purpose and cogency of argument are convincing, and the deep impression made upon the Senate will, we trust, extend its sphere of influence to the Conference itself.

FIFTY FARMING COUNTIES

The fifty leading agricultural counties in the United States have just been determined by the Bureau of the Census for the Department of Commerce. The figures are interesting and instructive. California has thirteen of the leading counties; New York, seven; Illinois, five; Texas, four; Pennsylvania, four; South Carolina, four; North Carolina, three; Washington, two; and one each for Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Maine, Minnesota, and Mississippi.

Los Angeles County, California, ranked first, among all counties in the United States in the combined value of crops and live stock products in 1919, the total valuation amounting to $71,579,000. The value of the crops alone in this county was nearly 62 million dollars, which was greater than the combined value of crops and livestock in any other county in the United States. Fresno County, same state, ranked second, with a value of 55 millions. Argostock County, Maine, stood third, with 54 millions, potatoes contributing about four-fifths of this valuation. San Joaquin County, California, ranked fourth, with a value of 41 millions. Lancaster County, Pa., was fifth, with about 40 millions; Yakima County, Washington, sixth, with a value of about 35 millions. The next in order were Tulare County, seventh, and Sonoma County, eighth, both in California. Then came Whitman County, Washington, ninth, and Dane County, Wisconsin, tenth.

The North Carolina counties were, Robeson, with a value of 23 millions; Pitt with a value of 21 millions; and Johnston, with a value of about 20 millions. The South Carolina counties were Anderson, with a value of about 24 millions; Orangeburg, with about 23 millions; Spartanburg, with 21 millions; Marlboro, with 19 millions.

Virginia does not figure in the list at all. But some day the great valley of the Shenandoah will, we feel sure, take its place among the other fertile sections of the country. Think what it means to the merchants and bankers of a county to have an annual volume of twenty millions of dollars or more flowing in the channels of trade and commerce, and what it means to the farmers themselves!

As for Alexandria's home counties, Fairfax, Loudoun, Arlington, Prince William, and Fauquier—with proper incentive and encouragement they could be made to treble or quintuple their present production. To say nothing of the Maryland counties on the other side of the Potomac, which form a princely domain that should be, that must be—sometime tributary to this city.

In this connection we wish to say that the Ferry Project—so long a cherished dream—is not dead—so we are informed—or even sleeping!

The election caused a slight suspension of the respiratory functions—that is all. It has begun to breathe again, and soon other organs of delight—that is to say, our eyes, will be rejoiced by a vision of that which for so long has gladdened only our ears!

QUANTICO NEWS

The Marine Barracks at Quantico has been transferring officers and men from the post for the past week, in compliance with the request of the Post Office Department that members of the Corps be assigned to guard the valuable mail throughout the United States. The orders are to "shoot to kill." Several very inspiring talks have been given to the command by Brigadier General Smedley Darlington Butler, U. S. C., commanding, in which he made mention of the great confidence of the people in the loyalty and courage of the Marine.

On November 10, the Marines, informally celebrated the 146th anniversary of the founding of their organization. Founded by act of Continental Congress on the same date in the year 1775, one month before the United States Navy, the Marines served throughout the Revolution. Marines were with John Paul Jones when that valiant Scot transferred his flag from the sinking Bonhomme Richard to the vanquished Serapis. They later fought the Seminole Indians in Florida, and in more recent years the Koreans in the Far East. The sun never sets on their activities.

Work is being pushed on the stadium at Quantico, and the band plays morning and afternoon while the leathernecks hustle into completion. This will later be used as a football field, and a game will be played there this fall. Preparations are now being made for the game at Baltimore on December 3, when the post team will play the Army warriors of the Third Corps Area. A cheering section will be one of the features, and parades on the latest song hits are being written for the occasion. Captain Clement, a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute, is in charge as cheer leader, assisted by 2d Lieutenant Hall, who recently joined the Corps from the graduating class at Annapolis. The Quantico team is very fast, and is coached by 1st Lieutenant John Beckett, former Oregon University star. Beckett has recently arrived at the post, having been athletic officer at the Marine Barracks, Mare Island, California. His first team consists almost entirely of former stars of the college world. All the men available will attend the game at Baltimore, and special trains have been reserved for this purpose. Those who so desire may spend the night in the Fifth Regiment Armory in that city, where cots will be provided. General Butler always takes a great deal of interest in football, and is behind the team to the limit. Those who know the General are well aware that when he pushes a thing, it is sure to be a success.

The commissioned officers hold their dances every other week at the Red Cross Building, and the last one was a bal masque, which brought out nearly all hands. It was a great success, and was arranged by 2d Lieutenant Ryan. The next dance will be held on Friday night, November 18, and will commence immediately after the moving picture show, featuring "Way Down East," which Chaplain Niven has obtained for that date. The movies are changed every night, and are exhibited in the Post Gymnasium.

The dances for enlisted men are given twice each month in the Post Gymnasium, and are well attended by young ladies from Washington and Fredericksburg. A band and an orchestra alternate and a very able hop committee provides for entertainment of guests.

It is rumored that General Butler is soon to leave Quantico, to be assigned to duty either as military governor of the island of Haiti, or to command the Fifth Brigade on the Pacific Coast. His transfer will be a great loss to Quantico, as he has accomplished the seemingly impossible here. The work is one of construction, as this post was built for war purposes, and there are but few permanent buildings erected. With his characteristic energy and broad vision, the General has overcome many obstacles. Because of lack of sioned officers were transformed from old barracks buildings into attractive homes, hot water heated and electric lighted. A parade ground of many acres has been graded and seeded. Roads have been built and buildings maintained in good condition. The military efficiency of the command is excellent. This condition prevails wherever General Butler has command. He is a Pennsylvanian by birth and education, the son of the Honorable Thomas Butler, representative in Congress and chairman of the House Naval Affairs Committee. The Butlers are militant Quakers, and the labour had to be done by he enlisted personnel and they went to it with a will. Quarters for non-commissioned officers and commissaries wears the Distinguished Service Medal of both the Army and the Navy. He was decorated by the French government for his able services overseas during the late war, and his campaigns are legion. Entering the service as a lad during the Spanish American War, he first saw active service against an enemy at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Later he fought in China during the Boxer Uprising, where he was twice wounded and brevetted for gallantry. He and General Butler lives up to his family traditions. He has twice been decorated for gallantry with the Congressional Medal of Honor, and distinguished himself in the Philippine Campaign, and at Vera Cruz, Mexico, commanded his famous Battalion with such skill and daring that Congress awarded him his first Medal of Honor. In Nicaragua he was in the middle of the scrapping, and in Haiti he led a flying column of Marines that speedily put a quietus on the activities of the blood-thirsty "Cacos" who were opposing the American Occupation of that island republic. As a bush fighter he has no peer. He makes rapid decisions and takes big chances, but rushes through so swiftly and with such blows that success always crowns his efforts. He is a man of simple tastes, and is easily approached by his subordinates. He calls a spade a spade, knows exactly what he wants, and invariably gets it. Such is the man whom we are soon to lose. He is leaving a great big pair of boots for his successor to fill.

"There's a Blizzard on the Way"

SOME morning this winter your family will face that reality. Will you be ready for it? Don't forget the dangers and discomforts of last winter. Don't put off the selection of a new heating plant for your home too long. Don't go through another winter without the cozy comfort of "QUAKER" Heat.

Now is the best time to prepare your house for the damp, chill winds and the cold days that are sure to come. If you install a QUAKER FURNACE now, you'll not mind the time when "there's a blizzard on the way" because

"Quaker" Heat is Quicker Heat

"The Pipeless Furnace That's Built of Steel"

The Quaker Furnace is built of steel, which radiates heat three times as fast as cast iron. Yet the Quaker holds the heat longer because the firepot is lined with FIRE BRICK like the crucible of a blast furnace.

Quaker Heat is cleaner heat, too. The joints are riveted like a boiler. No cement to crack and crumble. Soot, ashes, dust and dirt positively cannot leak through. The hotter the furnace gets the tighter the joints become.

OTHER IMPORTANT FEATURES

The Quaker has an extra large water pan (with handy outside filler) which keeps the air moist and healthful. The firepot can't crack. The combustion chamber is extra large. The special hot blast saves fuel. Doors are ground EXACTLY to give perfect air-tight fit. Free catalog tells all about these and other Quaker improvements. Send for it today.

Quaker Steel Pipeless Furnaces are easily installed in old or new homes. Only one register required. Made with 18, 22, 26, and 28 inch firepots. Delivered quickly from nearest warehouse. Send for free catalog.

The next meeting of the General Association will be held in the First Baptist Church in Newport News, and Dr. Jackson was appointed to preach the opening sermon.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Miss Lou Ellen Ball, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ball, delightfully entertained on her thirteenth birthday at an enjoyable party. The home was decorated with cut and potted flowers. The music was very tasteful and a number of selections for the occasion were arranged. Among those present were: Marshall Smith, Emma Wigfield, Evelyn Moore, Sidney Snelling, Marion Wood, Cleveland Shaw, Mazie Parkes, Harry Humphreys, Isabelle Simpson, Jack Allen, Annie Moore, Kermit Smith, Virginia Allen, Clarence Meade, Mildred Brown, Guy Duty, Lillian Ball, Robert Osgood, Margaret Ball, Arnold Critzer, Evelyn Gaines, Rudolph Schreiner, Rosalie Clark, Arthur Wigfield, David Houston, Charlotte Rhodes, Beatrice Schreiner, Doris Hantzman, William Moore, Margaret Snellings, Walter Davis, Kathleen Nalls, John Simpson, Frances Cratzer, Virginia Studd, Bertha May, Margaret May, Margaret Studd, Hazel Barry and Doris Critzer.

The younger set had occasion to feel once more that a good "geppy" dance such as Alexandria is famed for is not a thing of the past, when a number of young men held a delightful one in the Elks Auditorium last night. The committee in charge was composed of Gilbert J. Cox, Jr., Brianly Clem, and Hubert Steele. The music was excellent. A number of out of town guests were present.

Mrs. David Janney Howell was hostess Wednesday at a charming card party at her home in Duke street, with about thirty guests present. Prizes, handsome brass candlesticks were won by Mrs. Harold McKittrick, Mrs. Thomas Robinson, Mrs. William J. Boothe, Mrs. Hugh McGuire, Mrs. George P. Anderson and Mrs. Wallace Lindsey.

One of the important and interesting events of the week, though out of town, was the wedding, Thursday at Shepherdstown, of Dr. Llewellyn Powell and Miss Willie Pierce Boone, of Shepherdstown. Dr. Powell had for his best man, Dr. Samuel B. Moore, and those from town attending the wedding were Miss Irma Koonitz, Dr. H. A. Latane and Dr. Yates. After a wedding trip to Florida, Dr. and Mrs. Powell will reside at 201 North Washington street.

Teh Woodberry-Episcopal game at Episcopal High School tomorrow will attract numerous alumni of both institutions from all over the state. A number of University of Virginia boys will be up for the occasion, among whom is Charles C. Carlin, Jr., who arrived last night and is at the home of his parents, Hon. and Mrs. C. C. Carlin, in North Washington street.

The Kiwanis Club is entertaining on the night of December first for the wives of the members and others of the opposite sex that have been asked at a dinner and later in evening, it is rumored that an act or two from Keith's Circuit will be one of the attractions.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Thomas and children, of Louisville, Ky., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Acton, in Rosemont.

Miss Mary Hunt Roberts is visiting in Swarthmore, Pa.

The Auxiliary Board to the Alexandria Hospital is fast perfecting plans for the card party and musical tea to be given on the afternoon of November 29, at Lee Camp Hall. This affair is expected to be one of the most interesting events of the season.

Truxton A. C. Visits Virginians

Having secured several new players, the fast Truxton A. C. of Washington will again invade this city, Sunday, November 20, with the intention of taking football honors from the Virginia A. C. Last Sunday the Truxtons defeated the Quincey A. C. one of the strongest independent eleven of Washington, and they promise the Virginians, that a better showing will be made, than when last they played in this city.

If you wish to see a real team play football, come to the Shipyard Grounds Sunday, November 20, at 2:30 p. m., and see the Virginia A. C. They will show you speed and class.

The Virginia Daredevil A. C. held its regular meeting at the home of Miss Thelma Mifflord last night. If possible to get the hall they will hold a practice Monday afternoon, if not they will practice Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. They have started to engage games and if everything turns out as they expect they will soon be ready to meet all comers. A new member was elected in the club last night, Miss Christine Plaskett. They expect to have a fine team when they have had full practice. They will meet any team in Washington or any place in Virginia.

Woman, 110, To Bob Hair

Newark, N. J., Nov. 19.—The oldest inmate in the Daughters of Israel Home for the Aged, 110 years old, is about to have her hair bobbed "like the other girls," as she expressed it. Her name is withheld for fear its publication might offend wealthy relatives.

The woman is known among the other inmates as "the telephone," because of her facility in gossip. She ascribed her longevity largely to diet, eating no meat and very little bread.

Another inmate of the home is Mrs. Rivka Zippe, 105 years old. She prims constantly and says the secret of her old age and beauty is fresh air. Her favorite diversion is playing with dolls.

The World's Warfare

Beginning with the Trojan War and including the World War, an encyclopedia classifies 50 notable conflicts in the history of the world.

The Trojan War, with the siege of Troy as its principal battle, occurred 1193 to 1184, B. C.

The Trojan, Messenian, Persian, Grecian, Sacred Wars of Greece, Samnite, Pubic, Greco-Roman, Jugurthine, Roman Social, Mithridatic, Gladiatorial, Gallic and Roman Civil Wars were the principal struggles in the pre-Christian period of history.

Between the advent of the Christian era and the discovery of America in 1492, nine notable conflicts occurred. The Austro-Swiss War, which brought the independence of Switzerland, probably had the most important effect on modern history.

Conflicts in the early Christian period were: Jewish-Roman, Dacian, Barbarian, Saracen, Hundred Years, Austro-Swiss, and Hussite wars, the Crusades and the War of the Roses.

Eight notable wars occurred between the time Columbus discovered the new world and the American colonies declared their independence in 1776. These included the French Civil, Spanish-Netherlands, Thirty Years, English Civil, Spanish Succession, Swedish-Russian, Austrian Succession and Seven Years wars.

The American Revolution, French Revolution, Napoleonic War, War of 1812, Greco-Turkish War which brought Grecian independence, Mexican War, Crimean War, Italian and American Civil wars occurred in the 89 years between 1776 and 1865.

The Seven Weeks, Franco-Prussian, Russo-Turkish and Chinese-Japanese wars were the principal conflicts between the close of the Civil War and the Spanish-American War in 1898.

The Russo-Japanese War of 1904-05, Turco-Italian War in 1911-12, and the Balkan War in 1912-13, completes the list of major conflicts to the beginning of the World War.

12 Killed, 30 Injured

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 19.—Twelve persons were killed, 30 or more injured and considerable property damage done by two cyclones which struck in widely separated parts of the State last night.

Eight members of the family of R. E. Weems, at Wickes, Ark., were killed when the Weems home collapsed during a violent storm. Reports of the deaths reached Mena today, when a call for eight coffins was received. Details are lacking, due to the fact that all wires to Wickes are down, but it is understood little damage was done except to the Weems farms.

Another storm, striking a lumber camp near Arkadelphia, killed one person, injured 24 others and then shipped north to a point near Malvern, where three more persons were killed and a number injured.

Hungary Prices Up 150 Fold

Washington, Nov. 19.—Americans worrying over the cost of living will find a grain of comfort by a glance behind the scenes of Hungary. Based on index figures with 100 representing prices for 1913-14, every article in May of this year showed an increase of from 1,000 to 16,000 points. Since May, according to a report from the American Commissioner at Budapest, prices have taken another tremendous jump.

With all articles standing at 100 seven years ago in May, they were as follows:

Men's linen clothing, 16,200; woven articles, 16,714; fat, 13,000; women's dresses, 5,600; shoes, 10,000; fuel, 5,000; clothing, 5,777; food, 3,723; rent, 1,322, and sundries, 2,941.

This little bit of advice may help you to regain your Health, Strength and Vitality

Thousands of people suffer from nervousness. They are run down and miserable without knowing the reason why.

They do not stop to think that much of their trouble may be caused by drinking tea and coffee which contain the drugs, thein and caffeine. When you over-stimulate the system for any period of time, the result may be nervousness with its many accompanying ills. You may fail to sleep properly and your sleep does not refresh you as it should.

Postum, made from scientifically roasted cereals, will help you to overcome all these conditions. For it contains only healthful substances, instead of drugs, as are found in tea and coffee.

Postum helps build sound nerve structure, by letting you get sound, restful sleep.

In flavor, Postum is much like high-grade coffee. In fact there are many people who prefer Postum for its savory flavor alone.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Serve this rich, fragrant beverage for the family. See how the children will like it, and how much better everybody will sleep at night.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Q. Fall, Louisville, mother of wife No. 2. Mrs. Fall said Long had hypnotized her daughter several times for the amusement of friends and is confident the girl is under his hypnotic control now.

Long, who owns a small farm in Indiana, across the Ohio River from Louisville, met the Fall girl at the department store, where they both were employed. Later on his wife and daughter, Clara Lee, often accompanied him during his courtship at the Fall home. The marriage was carried out with all parties agreeable.

"How does it seem to have two wives?" Long was asked.

"Well, it's ideal; we're all happy together."

"Are you a church man?" he was asked.

"Yes, indeed," the happy husband replied.

Long seemed perfectly willing to discuss his affairs and said that he feared no trouble.

"Why did you think it necessary to marry this girl when you already were legally married to another?"

"Well," he explained, "I was going to bring her home and I wanted everything to be regular; you see we are all very happy together. My daughter is about my second wife's age and that makes it very nice."

"Doesn't your first wife object?"

"Oh, no. In fact, she helped arrange it. We have known each other for a long time and Clara Lee and Marjorie love each other."

"Aren't you afraid of being arrested?"

"Who could make a complaint?" inquired Long in surprise. "Neither of my wives would."

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Be the Best Medicine for Girls and Women

Hamilton, Ohio.—"I had such awful pains in my back I could hardly stand on my feet and I was never without a headache. If I walked up town I thought I would drop and many a time I felt so bad I had to go to bed and I was not able to do much of my housework. I would have hemorrhages every two weeks and dragging down pains. I had been feeling badly for three years and had two of the best doctors in the city, but I kept getting worse and only weighed 125 pounds. I saw your advertisement and I took eight boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets, four bottles Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and your Liver Pills and noticed an improvement right away. Now I weigh 188 pounds and feel fine. Everybody tells me how well I look and asks me what I took and I always say, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the best medicine in the world for any sickness to which girls and women are subject.' I will always have a good word for your medicine and you may use my name whenever you wish."

Why Suffer So?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Alexandria people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit? Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. A. Waring, 519 Patrick St., Alexandria, says: "I suffered from my back and inflammation of the bladder. I was in such misery during these attacks that I had to have injections of morphine to relieve the pain. My back ached so badly, I thought it would kill me. Pain in the top and back of my head nearly drove me insane. I often got so dizzy I could hardly keep from falling. Nothing did me any good until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. The first box gave me great relief. I used several boxes altogether and they stopped the awful pain in my back and head and made my kidneys normal. Since then, I have taken Doan's as soon as I have noticed any signs of kidney disorder and they have never failed to give quick relief."

Miraculous Escape.

On Monday, the 18th inst. as Lieutenant John Fee of the United States army was on his way to Meadeville and within five miles of that place, a tree fell upon him and his horse on the road, his horse was smashed down and the saddle broke before and behind. There being a fork in the tree, one branch struck on the pommel and the other on the cantle of his saddle. He escaped with his life! though not without being much bruised on his thighs and back by the branches. He is recovering.

A Paris paper says—On the day the Allies retreated from before Dresden, a beautiful dog was found near a spot where some mangled limbs were buried, howling over the relics, when on examining the collar the word "Moreau" was found on it, which gave the first intimation of the disaster of the General. The dog was carried to Dresden, and afterwards sent to Paris.

FARMOGRAMS

By

"The Drifter"

During the past week the Drifter has made a point of visiting a number of the dairy farms of Northern Virginia. He has talked with the dairymen on their own ground and finds that they are ready and willing to do all within their power to lower living costs in this particular vicinity; but for them to face a reduction in prices under present conditions would mean further embarrassment of an already acute situation. Without any material reduction in the cost of supplies, labor, gasoline, oils, and mill feed, he is asked to furnish milk and cream of the same standard. Is it possible for a dairyman to maintain this standard in the face of outside competition who sell on application until the herd can be inspected? Is the produce of Southern Maryland and Northern Virginia to be crowded out by interests who do not give business to local farms or banks?

One dairyman states that he will have to go out of business if the prices are lowered. First, the drought conditions materially reduced his feed production; second, that even by cutting labor costs through the use of mechanical devices, he is barely able to maintain the standard required.

The dairy interests are not seeking to make enormous profits. They only ask a fair return on their investment. In order to comply with modern dairy laws, it is necessary to install equipment unknown fifteen years ago. This equipment produces service, but the dairyman must have a return sufficient to cover his outlay. If the service is to be kept up to the maximum, then likewise must the producer continue to pay out of his earnings, a considerable amount for maintenance. Few people realize that it would be almost impossible for a dairyman to furnish the public with a standard grade of milk and employ dry-hand milkers, operate the separator by hand, and use animal power for feed production and delivery of his products. The man who produces the milk you use will be glad to have you pay a visit to his farm and look over things as they really exist. It is worth your while to go through a modern dairy.

While many farmers are complaining of the drought, our friend, Mr. Parker Richardson, holds that the dry weather is the best for corn. Mr. Richardson claims that in proportion to acreage, his corn crop is the best he has ever raised. Perhaps his land had a sufficient quantity of plant food stored in previous years to properly conserve moisture. The conservation of moisture is not only an asset, but a necessity.

Mr. John T. Williamson, of Newington, is listed as a premier grower of turnips. The crop will yield between five and six hundred bushels, with many specimens weighing from two to three pounds. One might think that turnips of this size would be pithy but the quality is unsurpassed.

The Drifter spent a pleasant hour Tuesday afternoon at Epsewason farm. Mr. A. H. Roberts, the owner, is endeavoring to build up a farm that will carry on the slogan of "Live at home and board at the same place." The arrangement of buildings, fields, and dairy are very commendable. Mr. Roberts was an officer during the late war who came back to the farm. He is a fine example of the farmer of today. A firm believer in diversified farming and the utilization of improved machinery in building up his farm, he practices his theories and is proving that they will work out in every day farm life.

Mr. T. T. Grimsley, of Lorton, has a field of raspberries, strawberries, and improved blackberries that display foresight in developing an industry that may well be copied by farmers of this section. This field is on the state highway and is on the right just before crossing Pohick Creek going south. This is only the beginning, so Mr. Grimsley states of what he is going to do on this tract. Variety berry growing will pay Northern Virginia if proper attention is given.

The Panama Canal Zone believes in building up good herds of dairy cattle, and a compliment has been paid to the Hollin Hall Farm herd by the selection of a blue ribbon bull to be shipped to Panama immediately. There are winners in Northern Virginia and the Drifter firmly believes that with the proper publicity and encouragement that the farmers of this section may well place themselves as competitors with the best. The start is made. Latin-America recognizes the value of the purebred. We have the farms, the markets, and the climatic conditions in our favor. Let us get in the swing and be among the best.

Reactionary sentiment has been a good deal in evidence both in this country and in Europe, where according to the best reports from reliable sources the edge is off the European demand for the time. This is not at all surprising as there is fairly good evidence that the South is going to part with considerable of its holdings at the present prices and with outside conditions still leaving much to be desired; the trade demand is not likely to follow bulges but will be chiefly noted on a scale down, until the situation becomes more acute. It is however equally true that offerings taper off quite rapidly on declines, leaving speculative sellers in an awkward position from which they have to extricate themselves as best they can when the scale down buying orders for trade account being to be uncovered. It is commonly asserted that at these prices a large increase in acreage can be confidently counted on for next season. I doubt, however, if that assumption is justified.

Many planters have no doubt cleared up their affairs and placed themselves in a position to consult their own preference on that point; but many more, especially the smaller planters who have secured one bale of cotton to eight or ten acres, are far from occupying any such position in spite of the advance and must still depend on merchants and factors and through them on banks to finance their coming crop. In view of the results this year I regard it as extremely doubtful if such financing will be readily supplied for a crop as extra hazardous as cotton now is, since the weevil has spread over the entire belt.

Such a risk will hardly appeal to prudent bankers on a large scale, but they will rather insist upon further diversification and not so much cotton. Even a large acreage is therefore by no means sure while the risk of weather and insect will still have to be faced. The present outlook fails to present much promise to dairymen who count on utilizing cotton seed meal as a regular ration.

One highly commendable effect that is being made by a few of our farmers that deserves mention is the spreading of manure over their fields at this time. Many farmers think this is a mistake idea in the utilization of manures, but if the land is to derive the full benefit of the various qualities contained; then at no time has the farmer more in his favor than during the winter months. Spread your manure and let the freezing and thawing compound a soil that will give you results. It has proved successful elsewhere and it will prove out in the Old Dominion.

Is it advisable to let the manure remain piled up and one small spot become highly productive to the detriment of the rest of the farm? With the freezing and thawing of your fields, the manure cover is absorbed by the land. This is what you want, why not use the proper method of obtaining this result. Farming has passed the stage of just making a living, and if the farmer is going to stay in the game today he must follow the methods of today by making use of every facility at his command.

Maj. Gen. E. B. Babbitt, former commander of the Panama Canal Zone has been the house guest of Mrs. H. P. Wilson of Hollin Hall Farm for the past two weeks. General Babbitt received the cross of Legion of Honor from Marshall Foch at the Marshall's apartment in the New Willard. Those in attendance as guests were General Shanks, Senator Hale; Senator and Mrs. Freylinghuysen and Mrs. H. P. Wilson.

Mr. W. T. McLeod of the American Steel and Wire Company has just returned from a family reunion in Iowa. The corn crop is the bumper crop out that way, says Mr. McLeod, but he goes on to say that on the whole Virginia is in a far better position than most other states through which he passed. He made his trip by automobile and had an opportunity to see conditions as they exist. Mr. McLeod claims that this section is yet unharmed when consideration is taken of crop results in other parts of the country.

Capt. George R. Spaulding Post No. 472, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will give its second annual ball the evening of November 24th, in the Camp Gymnasium at Camp A. A. Humphreys. The post has just received its new colors which will be presented that evening. Commander John Willer states that this ball will be the biggest effort in the way of entertainment put forth by the post. All members of the V. F. W. are cordially invited to put in an appearance at the roll call and spend a pleasant evening.

CONTROL MOTHS AND SAVE CLOTHES

Three species of clothes moths attack articles made of wool, fur, bristles, hair, and feathers, and their life histories are so similar that one system of control is applicable to all, says the United States Department of Agriculture. These moths pass through the usual life cycle of insects—adult or parent moth, the egg, the larva or worm, and the pupa or chrysalis stages. The adult or parent moth is the miller, commonly seen flying about rooms and closets. Although moths are particularly abundant during the spring and late summer, in heated houses they may prevail at any time.

The moths themselves do not damage clothing, carpets, or similar articles, but they lay many small white eggs, in some instances as many as 200 eggs each in a period of 3 weeks. Dependent on the temperature these eggs hatch in from 5 to 10 days, the tiny worms beginning to feed as soon as they hatch and reaching maturity in from 3 months to over one year. The rapidity of growth of the larvae depends upon favorable weather conditions and the kind of material available for feed. It is the larvae that cause the destruction of clothing as they prey upon clothes, furs, skins, and the like, being well equipped for such activities with well-developed jaws.

Simple Control Methods Are Effective

It is a simple matter to control moths where the proper precautions are observed. All clothing that is stored should be frequently brushed or beaten and well sunned at regular intervals. The larvae and eggs of clothes moths are very delicate, and a thorough brushing or beating will either crush or remove them. In brushing, pay special attention to the seams and pockets where dust and lint may have collected.

All clothing should be well cleaned before it is packed away in chests, as clothes moths prosper upon soiled spots in wearing apparel. After thoroughly brushing, beating, and sunning, articles to be stored away should be wrapped tightly in several thicknesses of newspapers or heavy paper, making certain that the paper at the end of the bundle is so well bent back upon itself that no opening is left through which the moths can crawl. These pests will not eat through paper, while tight wrapping makes a firm mass of clothing which still further protects it.

Fumigation with carbon disulphide is a most effective treatment. Clothing should be thoroughly brushed and then packed in a tight trunk or chest and fumigated. While carbon disulphide fumigation kills the clothes moths, it will not keep moths from entering later and developing new infestations. A saucer should be placed on top of the clothing and the carbon disulphide poured into it. This chemical evaporates, liberating a gas that sinks down into the clothing and kills the moth. It may be necessary to treat clothing several times a year where these articles are not kept in a tight storage place.

Although the odor of carbon disulphide is very foul it soon disperses and does not injure the fabric. This material can be purchased at any drug store. The gas which is formed is heavier than air and must be kept away from fire the same as gasoline.

Another excellent method of protecting clothing comes through the liberal use of naphthalene in the form of moth balls or flakes. In tight chests or trunks one pound of naphthalene, well distributed among the clothes, will kill all moths, and eggs and larvae. Well grown larvae are killed with difficulty by naphthalene, so it is essential to brush clothes thoroughly before placing them in the chests and exposing them to such control treatment. Unless the trunk or container is very tight, the fumes of naphthalene will escape and not kill the moths, as this chemical is effective as a killing agent only when enclosed in an air tight receptacle. Naphthalene scattered about bureau drawers may keep moths away to some extent but will not kill them.

Cold Storage Affords Protection. The best method of clothes protection, and the one now commonly adopted by dealers in furs and carpets, is cold storage. It has been found that articles held at a temperature of 40 degrees F. will be absolutely protected against damage while in storage. Where the cost of cold storage is not a critical factor, the adoption of this method of protection of goods during warm weather is strongly recommended.

Another excellent method of killing all clothes moths in the house or warehouse is by fumigation with hydrocyanic-acid gas. This is a most dangerous as well as effective gas, and the fumigation of a house to kill clothes moths in rugs and carpets as well as other furnishings should not be undertaken without a full knowledge of how to proceed. Such information may be had from the United States Department of Agriculture, Farmers' Bulletin 899, which presents detailed information regarding the use of hydrocyanic-acid gas.

Why Buick Valve-in-Head Motors Have More Power

Internal combustion motors are heat engines. The more heat retained in their cylinders, the more power they generate.

Water-jacketing space absorbs heat.

Buick Valve-in-Head motors have about 20% less water-jacketing space than the L Head type and about 15% less than the T Head type.

That is one of the reasons why Buick Valve-in-Head motors have more power.

"The Sheik"

George Melford, producer of "The Sheik," in which Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino are the featured players, struck a high note of realism in his production of the screen version of a famous novel which will be shown at Moore's Rialto Theatre next week. Highly effective are the scenes in the tent of the Sheik and in the desert stronghold of Omar, the bandit. A most realistic wind-storm is one of the features of the tent episode, with the sand whipping across the waste and almost tearing the heavy canvas from its "moorings."

Irene

"Irene" comes to Poli's next Sunday night, with Patti Harrold in the role of Irene O'Hara, the little shopgirl who became a great lady when opportunity smiled upon her. Miss Harrold has been playing this role for more than a year in New York with entire success and is said to equal Edith Day, its originator.

On November 30, beginning at 2 p. m., the Scottish Rite Bodies will hold a reunion and confer the Lodge, Chapter and Council degrees in the afternoon and the Consistory degrees at night.

Alexandria Council No. 5, Order Fraternal Americans

There was a largely attended and interesting meeting of Alexandria Council, Order Fraternal Americans, held last evening in Pythian Temple. There was a number of applications for membership received and referred to committees of investigation. A committee was appointed to arrange a suitable service to be held the first Sunday evening in December, having reference to the order's observance of its annual "Thanksgiving and Memorial Day." Announcement will be made later as to the place of holding the meeting. A number of members of the order will leave here next Tuesday to attend a District Council meeting in King George Co. Also plans are under way for a District Council meeting at Vienna early in December.

Oriental Court No. 10

Oriental Court No. 10, will hold its semi-monthly meeting on next Monday evening at which time the degrees will be conferred following which a social session of the Court will be held.

Royal Arcanum

The semi-monthly meeting of Alexandria Council, Royal Arcanum, will be held Tuesday evening next, at which time matters of interest to the fraternity will be considered.

Daughters of America

Mt. Vernon Council, No. 1, Daughters of America, held a largely attended meeting at its hall Thursday night. Officers were nominated for the ensuing term, which begins Jan. 1st. Plans were completed for the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the institution of the Council, which will be December 4th. Several members were present from a distance, and their talks were much enjoyed by all present.

Loyal Order of Moose

Virginia Lodge No. 1076, Loyal Order of Moose, meets first and third Mondays at McBurney's Hall, third floor. Seven more days for the James J. Davis Class.

Mooseheart Legion

Alexandria Chapter, No. 378, Women of Mooseheart Legion, meets every second and fourth Monday, at McBurney's Hall, third floor.

The women of Mooseheart Legion are contributing their share to the development and further building of Mooseheart. East Legion Hall and West Legion Lodge and the Library at Mooseheart are part of the good they have done. The dollar each year coming to Mooseheart from every chapter of the Women of Mooseheart Legion is helping to do many things for Mooseheart which would be impossible otherwise.

And do you know how these children of Mooseheart feel toward the Women of Mooseheart Legion? They think of them as foster-mothers of this great home, look on them with love and with affection. They know that the Women of Mooseheart Legion have been responsible for securing for them many added pleasures that they might not otherwise have had.

Odd Fellows

Sarepta Lodge, No. 46, I. O. O. F., meets every Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m., at Odd Fellows' Hall, North Columbus street. Joseph Morrow, Noble Grand, E. C. Todd, Vice

Grand.

At our last meeting the 2nd degree of the order was conferred upon a class of candidates and very important business was transacted, after which Past Grand J. A. Myers was the orator of the evening. Next Wednesday night he will confer the third degree of the order. All visiting Odd Fellows are cordially invited to attend, and he will grasp their hands in friendship and give them old Virginia welcome.

Osceola Tribe I. O. R. M.

At a meeting held in Pythian Hall on Wednesday night, three pale faces received adoption degree, two were elected and three new applications were read. A letter was read from Great Sachem Powell, announcing an official visit to the two tribes at joint session to be held Wednesday next. At this time the second degree will be conferred on a class of candidates. It is hoped that members of the tribe will attend this meeting and greet the Great Sachem Osceola Tribe is getting a new spirit and is rapidly forging to front and brothers will spend a pleasant evening by attending meetings on Wednesday nights at Pythian Hall. Get the spirit and visit your tribe.

Seminole Tribe No. 35

At the regular meeting of Seminole Tribe on Thursday night the Adoption Degree was conferred in short form.

Several applications of palefaces were received. The Great Sachem of the Great Council of Virginia, Mr. R. Oscar Powell, of Newport News, Va., will on next Wednesday evening, November 23, pay an official visit to Seminole Tribe, No. 35, and Osceola Tribe No. 1. This visit will be a joint visitation and both tribes have appointed committees to arrange an entertainment and reception in honor of their distinguished guest. The joint degree team of the two tribes will confer the Warrior's Degree on a class of candidates on this night and after the degree is conferred an elaborate program will be furnished after which corn and venison will be served the membership.

On last Thursday evening after the regular business session of the tribe the newly organized drill corps of Seminole Tribe met and elected the following officers for that organization, Captain, Earl R. Sullivan, 1st lieutenant, Norman G. Simpson, second lieutenant, Stephen F. Gill.

The Duck Pin team of Seminole Tribe will start the Bowling League on Saturday night and they will have as their opponents a team from the Columbia Motor Engine Company No. 1. The games will be rolled on the Westminster Building Alleys. Silver Moon Council Degree of Pocatontas.

At the regular meeting of Silver Moon Council, No. 15, Degree of Pocatontas, on last Monday evening, a large class of candidates was given the degree of the order. After the business and degree was over the members enjoyed the usual social session which Silver Moon Council is noted. Plans were made for an Oyster Supper to be held some time in the near future.

Knights of Columbus

Oftentimes Tribute

Oftentimes tribute to the dead is merely perfunctory, but the tribute we pay to the memory of Wm. M. P. Desmond truly proceeds from the profound sorrow that his departure has caused those fortunate enough to have enjoyed his friendship. At the very threshold of manhood he left us—at a time when he was beginning to reap the compensation of years of arduous scholastic effort that had won for him honors at one of the leading law universities of America. Like a promising young man, Desmond was the personification of modesty; he was the embodiment of a determined spirit that makes Success possible for those willing to pay its price. A pity, indeed, that he had to leave us at a time when the people knew but scanty of him and of his exceptional ability! While it is true that his innate modesty ever restrained him from ostentation, had he lived his sterling qualities and intellectual abilities would soon have inevitably won for him the recognition that his lovable personality had endeavored to conceal.

Yes, he has gone, but behind ever lingers the memory of one whose integrity of soul blended beautifully with brilliancy of intellect; and to the youth he left behind the career of young Desmond may well stand out as an inspiration and as a proof of the fact that today, as ever, Opportunity is the common birthright of men, and that it lies with in the reach of all those whose character and efforts are properly disposed and directed.

Desmond—as we affectionately knew you—farewell! As the poet Byron has written of another, we, too, write of you: The day without a cloud hath passed; And thou wert lovely to the last; Extinguish'd not decay'd! Shine brightest as they fall from high.

Father Smet, we are all mighty glad to say, is once more himself again, and is once more busily engaged in his Master's work. At the meeting next Wednesday evening, Father will be on hand, and no doubt will be glad to back with the "boys" again.

The euchre party was fine last night. Everybody seemed to enjoy the affair, and were more than pleased with our new quarters. We want to have more of these enjoyable occasions.

Brother Bernard Seiple has gotten down to brass tacks and next week will start practice with his newly organized basketball team. Practices will be held in the Armory Hall, and with the material at Seiple's disposal it looks as though the K. of C. will fare pretty well this year in the line of basketball.

The official organ of the order, Columbia, seems to improve with every issue. This month's issue has a very interesting article by Briebane, nationally known as an editorial writer. Thomas A. Edison, Jr., too, is on the list of contributors. The officers directing the Columbia are determined in their efforts to make of our official organ a magazine second to none, and from their results thus far it would seem that they will have no trouble in realizing this ideal.

We claim, not because we want to talk, but because it is indisputably true, that the Knights of Columbus Insurance System is the safest fraternal insurance society in America. It is absolutely safe, and every day and every day its complement of scores of young men throughout the nation solidifies the foundation of its insurance protection, and guarantees to its members a peace guard system of insurance that can't be beaten. During the month of December the insurance assessment will be suspended. This is on of the best proof of how surely financed is our system.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the council will be held Wednesday evening. Matters of importance and of general interest are scheduled, and at this meeting the honors of the second degree will be conferred upon a large number of candidates. Be sure to come!

Knights of Pythias

Oriental Lodge No. 6, Knights of Pythias, at the meeting Tuesday, November 15, conferred the Rank of Knight in amplified form, in a very commendable manner before a large membership. The rank team is desirous of having the stay away members to attend and assist in the work. The Rank of Page will be conferred upon a class of seven, Tuesday, November 22nd, and a big time is promised for that night.

Oriental Lodge will confer the Ranks every meeting for some time to come. New applications are presented at every meeting.

A Public Utility's Obligation

A PUBLIC utility has two outstanding obligations to the users of its service.

One is to give a good, reliable service at all times. To do this, it must have a competent, trained force of employees and pay them a living wage; it must use the best materials and equipment and pay for them at the market price.

The other obligation is to expand its system to be in a position to give service to all new patrons. This requires new capital. To command this new capital at all times, the investor—the person who has money to lend—must receive a fair return for its use.

The telephone system offers a striking example of these two obligations. Each new subscriber to the system involves not only a direct increase in the expense of giving service, but an outlay of new capital.

Therefore, a telephone system that does not earn an adequate revenue fails in its obligations to its patrons.
